CENTERSTONE'S DISTINCT INVESTMENT APPROACH

Successful investing requires a strong dose of common sense. As a result, we approach security analysis from a different perspective. We are business analysts, not “equity” analysts. Business analysis is a more holistic approach which includes the entirety of a firm’s capital structure and allows us, in our opinion, to more accurately gauge the prospects for impairment in business value.

“Successful investing requires a strong dose of common sense. As a result, we approach security analysis from a different perspective. We are business analysts, not ‘equity’ analysts.”

As the name of the firm states, we are investors, which implies a long-term time horizon. Since most peers operate on an annual cycle, they attempt to maximize short-term gains. Being privately owned with an employee ownership culture allows us, in our opinion, to more effectively align our interests with our investors.

We define risk simply as the chance for permanent loss of capital. Our distinct investment approach seeks to minimize losses at a portfolio level by trying to have adequate diversification of risks. We will default to cash and high quality bonds in the absence of qualifying investments. It is our belief that our risk management techniques on a security-level and portfolio-level attempt to address the risk most commonly defined by shareholders: volatility.

CENTERSTONE'S OPERATING PRINCIPLES

TIME HORIZON

- Long-term investment horizon
- Emphasis on long-term earnings power, rather than current earnings

MARGIN OF SAFETY AND INTRINSIC VALUE

- Invest in a security after we have determined that the market price is lower than its intrinsic value, the difference being our margin of safety
- Margin of safety affords us a cushion to potentially avoid paying more than its intrinsic value

SEEK TO MANAGE RISK THROUGH BOTTOM-UP RESEARCH

- In our opinion, it is important to avoid highly leveraged businesses, specifically because they are more exposed to an impairment of value during periods of industry or economic distress
- Focus our efforts on understanding the likelihood of a change in the earnings power of a business due to changing competitive dynamics, technological challenges and regulations, among other factors
- In most cases, we will avoid shareholder-unfriendly businesses as it relates to management's capital allocation decisions

GENERAL MARKET RISK WITHIN A BOTTOM-UP APPROACH

- In environments with an insufficient margin of safety, fully invested portfolio mandates can become too exposed to the risk of loss by owning potentially overvalued securities, while a more flexible policy may help to reduce that risk by holding a reserve in cash and high-quality debt instruments

CENTERSTONE'S GUIDELINES TO INTELLIGENT INVESTING

A long-term time horizon and the avoidance of permanent capital loss are the keys to a successful investment strategy

Business quality, balance sheet quality, and management quality are as important as price in considering the difference between an investment and speculation

The flexibility to hold reserves is an important tool in the event that bottom-up search yields few opportunities

Abhay Deshpande, CFA
CHIEF INVESTMENT OFFICER

DEAR FELLOW CENTERSTONE SHAREHOLDERS,

We are pleased to present you with the first Semi-Annual Report for the Centerstone Investors Fund and Centerstone International Fund. This Semi-Annual Report covers just shy of five months' worth of operations as the Funds were launched on May 3, 2016.

We would like to thank you for being among the first shareholders. Our goal for the Centerstone Investors Fund is to generate long-term growth of capital by seeking to provide equity-like returns with less risk than pure equity or index funds over a long-term investment horizon. We believe this strategy is appropriate for investors seeking an actively managed, value-oriented core portfolio. The goal for the Centerstone International Fund is to generate long-term growth of capital by investing across international markets, including both developed and emerging. We believe this strategy is appropriate for investors seeking value in an actively managed, equity-oriented portfolio with foreign exposure.

In our previous quarterly commentaries, we have described the types of businesses we tend to own, but equally important is the types of businesses we tend not to own. For instance, we are constitutionally averse to highly leveraged businesses and, as a result, the Funds have notably light exposure to global financial companies. This has served us well given how persistently weak such companies have been since the financial crisis. However, we point this out in the event that should the fortunes of such companies turn, in particular European banks, the Funds would not benefit much. Avoiding highly leveraged businesses is a key part of how we try to avoid a permanent loss of capital.

We have also communicated the futility of trying to predict the future. Given that the values of resource-oriented companies are mostly dependent on the future prices of their underlying resources, by extension we are also lightly exposed to these types of companies. Again, after a prolonged period of share price weakness for these companies, the Funds would not greatly benefit if such share price weakness reverses. Our focus on avoiding a permanent loss of capital has led us to avoid trying to predict the prices of underlying resources for resource-oriented companies.

From a longer-term perspective, we believe that our differentiated portfolios may be an effective answer to today's insoluble dilemma—that is, how to generate an adequate return in a low return, low interest rate world. It remains our belief that owning a combination of solid businesses with stable market positions exposed to both cyclical or stable end markets, held at a reasonable price, combined with a healthy level of reserves and some gold (just in case) holds the answer. While there may be periods in which this strategy underperforms, we seek to deliver positive real performance over a full market cycle.

LOOKING AHEAD

It has indeed been an interesting five months. Without doubt, the future will be interesting too. In particular, the Federal Reserve seems to be way behind the curve and even we cannot help wonder how market prices would react should the authorities realize how much catching up they may have to do. In a market that is essentially at its intrinsic value, there is not much margin for error. As Benjamin Graham counseled, always be willing to hold reserves as you just never know what is around the corner.

Thank you for being a Centerstone shareholder and partner. We are excited to be on this long journey with you and look forward to writing you again in the Annual Report dated March 31, 2017.

Sincerely,

Abhay Deshpande, CFA

GROWTH OF A $10,000 INITIAL INVESTMENT

Fund commenced operations on May 3, 2016.

The performance data quoted is historical. Past performance is no guarantee of future results. The investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate. An investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than the original cost. Total return is calculated assuming reinvestment of all dividends and distributions. Total returns would have been lower had the Advisor not waived its fees and reimbursed a portion of the Fund's expenses. The chart does not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would have to pay on Fund distributions or the redemption of the Fund shares. Per the fee table in the Fund's May 3, 2016, prospectus, the total annual operating expenses before fee waivers are 2.53%, 3.28% and 2.28% for the Fund's Class A, Class C and Class I shares, respectively. Class A shares are subject to a maximum sales charge of 5.00% imposed on purchases. For performance information current to the most recent month-end, please call 877.314.9006.

The returns for class A shares give effect to the deduction of the maximum sales charge of 5.00%.

GROWTH OF A $10,000 INITIAL INVESTMENT

Fund commenced operations on May 3, 2016.

The performance data quoted is historical. Past performance is no guarantee of future results. The investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate. An investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than the original cost. Total return is calculated assuming reinvestment of all dividends and distributions. Total returns would have been lower had the Advisor not waived its fees and reimbursed a portion of the Fund's expenses. The chart does not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would have to pay on Fund distributions or the redemption of the Fund shares. Per the fee table in the Fund's May 3, 2016, prospectus, the total annual operating expenses before fee waivers are 2.58%, 3.33% and 2.33% for the Fund's Class A, Class C and Class I shares, respectively. Class A shares are subject to a maximum sales charge of 5.00% imposed on purchases. For performance information current to the most recent month-end, please call 877.314.9006.

The returns for class A shares give effect to the deduction of the maximum sales charge of 5.00%.

The MSCI ACWI ex-US Index captures large and mid cap representation across 22 of 23 Developed Markets (DM) countries (excluding the US) and 23 Emerging Markets (EM) countries.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (Unaudited)

SEPTEMBER 30, 2016

1. ORGANIZATION

The Centerstone Investors Fund and the Centerstone International Fund (each a “Fund” and collectively the “Funds”) is each a series of Centerstone Investors Trust, (the “Trust”) a Delaware statutory trust. The Trust is an open-ended management investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (“1940 Act”). The Trust is governed by its Board of Trustees (the “Board” or “Trustees”). Each Fund is a diversified series of the Trust. The Centerstone Investors Fund seeks long-term growth of capital by investing in a range of securities and asset classes from markets around the world, including the US market. The Centerstone International Fund seeks long-term growth of capital by investing in a range of securities and asset classes primarily from foreign (non-US) markets. Centerstone Investors, LLC (the “Advisor”), manages the Funds. The Funds’ inception date is May 3, 2016.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (“GAAP”) requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of increases and decreases in net assets from operations during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. The Funds follow specialized accounting and reporting requirements under GAAP that are applicable to investment companies.

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies followed by the Fund in preparation of their financial statements.

- a. Investment Valuation – In determining each Fund’s Net Asset Value (“NAV”) per share, securities traded on one or more securities exchanges for which market quotations are readily available are valued at current market value using the last reported sales price. NASDAQ traded securities are valued using the NASDAQ Official Closing Price (“NOCP”). If no sale price is reported, the mean between the current bid and ask is used. If market quotations are not readily available, then securities may be valued at fair value as determined by the Board (or its delegate). Securities not traded or dealt in on any securities exchange and for which over-the-counter market (whether domestic or foreign) quotations are readily available generally shall be valued at the last sale price or, in the absence of a sale, at the current bid price on such over-the-counter market. Debt securities not traded on an exchange may be valued at prices supplied by the relevant pricing agent(s) based on broker or dealer supplied valuations or matrix pricing, a method of valuing securities by reference to the value of other securities with similar characteristics, such as rating, interest rate and maturity. Absent special circumstances, valuations for a specific type of instrument will all be made through the same pricing agent.

The value of foreign currencies and of foreign securities whose value is quoted or calculated in a foreign currency shall be converted into US dollars based on foreign exchange rates provided by a major banking institution(s) or currency dealer(s) selected by the pricing agent providing such price at 4:00 pm Eastern Time (“ET”).

Short-term debt securities with a remaining maturity of 60 days or less are valued at amortized cost, provided such valuations represent fair value.

Forward contracts are valued at the current cost of covering or offsetting such contracts by reference to forward currency rates at the time the NYSE closes (normally 4:00 pm ET).

Securities in which the Funds invest may be traded in markets that close before 4:00 pm ET. Normally, developments that occur between the close of the foreign markets and 4:00 pm ET will not be reflected in a Fund’s NAV. However, Funds may determine that such developments are significant that they will affect the value of a Fund’s securities, and the Fund may adjust the previous local closing prices to reflect fair value for these securities as of 4:00 pm ET. Effective September 13, 2016, the Funds began using fair value prices as provided by an independent pricing vendor for those securities traded on a foreign exchange.

Valuation of Fund of Funds – The Funds may invest in portfolios of open-end or closed-end investment companies (the “Underlying Funds”). The Underlying Funds value securities in their portfolios for which market quotations are readily available at their market values (generally the last reported sale price) and all other securities and assets at their fair value to the methods established by the board of directors of the Underlying Funds.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (Unaudited)

SEPTEMBER 30, 2016

Fair Valuation Process – If market quotations are not readily available, or if, in the opinion of the Advisor, the prices or values available do not represent fair value, securities will be valued at their fair market value as determined in good faith by the Trust’s Fair Value Committee (the “Committee”) in accordance with procedures approved by the Board and evaluated by the Board as to the reliability of the fair value method used. The Committee is composed of one or more representatives from each of the (i) Trust, (ii) Administrator, and (iii) Advisor. The procedures consider, among others, the following factors to determine a security’s fair value: the nature and pricing history (if any) of the security; whether any dealer quotations for the security are available; and possible valuation methodologies that could be used to determine the fair value of the security. The Committee may also enlist third party consultants such as a valuation specialist at a public accounting firm, valuation consultant, or financial officer of a security issuer on an as-needed basis to assist in determining a security-specific fair value. The Board reviews and ratifies the execution of this process and the resultant fair value prices at least quarterly to assure the process produces reliable results.

As noted, the Committee is composed of one or more representatives from each of the (i) Trust, (ii) Administrator, and (iii) Advisor. The applicable investments are valued collectively via inputs from each of these groups. For example, fair value determinations may be required for the following securities: (i) securities for which market quotations are insufficient or not readily available on a particular business day (including securities for which there is a short and temporary lapse in the provision of a price by the regular pricing source), (ii) securities for which, in the judgment of the Advisor, the prices or values available do not represent the fair value of the instrument. Factors which may cause the Advisor to make such a judgment include, but are not limited to, the following: only a bid price or an asked price is available; the spread between bid and asked prices is substantial; the frequency of sales; the thinness of the market; the size of reported trades; and actions of the securities markets, such as the suspension or limitation of trading; (iii) securities determined to be illiquid; (iv) securities with respect to which an event that will affect the value thereof has occurred since the closing prices were established on the principal exchange on which they are traded, but prior to the Funds' calculation of its net asset value; and (v) securities which are restricted, such as private investments or non-traded securities. The Committee may determine the fair value of such securities using the following factors: (i) the type of security; (ii) the cost at date of purchase; (iii) the size and nature of the Funds' holdings; (iv) the discount from market value of unrestricted securities of the same class at the time of purchase and subsequent thereto; (v) information as to any transactions or offers with respect to the security; (vi) the nature and duration of restrictions on disposition of the security and the existence of any registration rights; (vii) how the yield of the security compares to similar securities of companies of similar or equal creditworthiness; (viii) the level of recent trades of similar or comparable securities; (ix) the liquidity characteristics of the security; (x) current market conditions; and (xi) the market value of any securities into which the security is convertible or exchangeable, to name a few.

The Funds utilize various methods to measure the fair value of most of their investments on a recurring basis. GAAP establishes a hierarchy that prioritizes inputs to valuation methods. The three levels of input are:

Level 1 – Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets and liabilities.

Level 2 – Observable inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly. These inputs may include quoted prices for the identical instrument on an inactive market, prices for similar instruments, interest rates, prepayment speeds, credit risk, yield curves, default rates and similar data.

Level 3 – Unobservable inputs for the asset or liability, to the extent relevant observable inputs are not available, representing the Funds' own assumptions about the assumptions a market participant would use in valuing the asset or liability, and would be based on the best information available.

The availability of observable inputs can vary from security to security and is affected by a wide variety of factors, including, for example, the type of security, whether the security is new and not yet established in the marketplace, the liquidity of markets, and other characteristics particular to the security. To the extent that valuation is based on models or inputs that are less observable or unobservable in the market, the determination of fair value requires more judgment. Accordingly, the degree of judgment exercised in determining fair value is greatest for instruments categorized in Level 3.

CENTERSTONE INVESTORS

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (Unaudited)

The inputs used to measure fair value may fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In such cases, for disclosure purposes, the level in the fair value hierarchy within which the fair value measurement falls in its entirety, is determined based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement in its entirety.

The inputs or methodology used for valuing securities are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in those securities. The following tables summarize the inputs used as of September 30, 2016, for the Funds' assets and liabilities measured at fair value:

There were no transfers into or out of Level 1 or Level 2 during the period. It is the Fund's policy to recognize transfers into and out of Level 1 and Level 2 at the end of the reporting period.

b. Foreign Currency Translations – The books and records of the Funds are maintained in US dollars. The market values of securities which are not traded in US currency are recorded in the financial statements after translation to US dollars based on the applicable exchange rates at the end of the period. The costs of such securities are translated at exchange rates prevailing when acquired. Related interest, dividends and withholding taxes are accrued at the rates of exchange prevailing on the respective dates of such transactions.

The net assets of each of the Funds are presented at the foreign exchange rates and market values at the close of the period. The Funds do not isolate that portion of gains and losses on investments which is due to changes in foreign exchange rates from that which is due to changes in market prices of the securities. Accordingly, such foreign currency gains (losses) are included in the reported net realized and unrealized gains (losses) on investment transactions on the Statements of Operations. However, for federal income tax purposes each Fund does isolate the effect of changes in foreign exchange rates from the changes in market prices for realized gains and losses on debt obligations.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (Unaudited)

c. Forward Currency Contracts – As foreign securities are purchased and sold, the Funds may enter into forward currency exchange contracts in order to hedge against foreign currency exchange rate risks. The market value of the contracts fluctuate with changes in currency exchange rates. The contract is marked-to-market daily and the change in market value is recorded by the Funds as an unrealized gain or loss. As foreign securities are sold, a portion of the contract is generally closed and the Funds record a realized gain or loss equal to the difference between the value of the contract at the time it was opened and the value at the time it was closed. The Funds may also enter into forward currency contracts as an investment strategy consistent with the Fund's investment objective. Realized gains and losses from contract transactions are included as a component of net realized gains (losses) from investments and foreign currency in the Statements of Operations.

Funds investing in foreign exchange contracts are exposed to risk if the value of the currency changes unfavorably, if the counterparties to the contracts are unable to meet the terms of their contracts or if the Fund is unable to enter into a closing position.

The notional value of the derivative instruments outstanding as of September 30, 2016, as disclosed in the Portfolio of Investments and the amounts realized and changes in unrealized gains and losses on derivative instruments during the period within the Statement of Operations serve as indicators of the volume of derivative activity for the Funds.

- f. Investment Transactions, Investment Income and Expenses – Investment transactions are recorded on a trade date basis. Realized gains and losses from investment transactions and foreign exchange transactions are calculated using the identified cost method. Dividend income and expense is recorded on ex-dividend date (“ex-date”) except in the case of certain dividends from foreign securities, which are recorded soon after the Fund, using reasonable diligence, becomes aware of such dividends. Interest income is recorded on an accrual basis. Discounts are accreted and premiums are amortized as adjustments to interest income and the identified cost of investments. Expenses of the Trust that are directly identifiable to a specific Fund are charged to that Fund. Expenses, which are not readily identifiable to a specific Fund, are allocated in such a manner as deemed equitable, taking into consideration the nature and type of expense and the relative sizes of the Funds. In general, each Fund's income, expenses (other than the class specific distribution fees) and realized and unrealized gains and losses are allocated proportionally each day between the classes based upon the relative net assets of each class.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (Unaudited)

- g. Concentration of Risk – Investing in securities of foreign issuers and currency transactions may involve certain considerations and risks not typically associated with investments in the United States. These risks include revaluation of currencies, adverse fluctuations in foreign currency values and possible adverse political, social and economic developments, including those particular to a specific industry, country or region. These conditions could cause the securities and their markets to be less liquid and prices more volatile than those of comparable US companies and US government securities.

The ability of issuers of debt securities held by the Funds to meet their obligations may be affected by economic and political developments particular to a specific industry, country, state or region. Investments in lower grade debt securities are subject to special risks, including greater price volatility and a greater risk of loss of principal and interest.

- h. Federal Income Taxes – It is each Fund's policy to continue to comply with all sections of the Internal Revenue Code applicable to regulated investment companies and to distribute all of its taxable income and gains, if any, to its shareholders and therefore, no provision for federal income tax has been made. Each Fund is treated as a separate taxpayer for federal income tax purposes. The Funds recognize the tax benefits of uncertain tax positions only when the position is "more likely than not" to be sustained assuming examination by tax authorities. Management has reviewed the tax positions in the open tax year of 2016 and expected to be taken in tax year 2016 and concluded that no liability for unrecognized tax benefits should be recorded related to uncertain tax positions taken in the above open tax year. The Funds identify their major tax jurisdictions as US Federal. The Funds recognize interest and penalties, if any, related to unrecognized tax benefits as income tax expense in the Statements of Operations. During the period, the Funds did not incur any interest or penalties.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (Unaudited)

- i. Distributions to Shareholders – It is each Fund’s policy to distribute its respective net investment income and net capital gains, if any, annually. Distributions of net investment income and net capital gains are determined in accordance with income tax regulations which may differ from GAAP. Differences in dividends from net investment income per share between the classes are due to service and distribution related expenses. Dividends and distributions to shareholders are recorded on ex-date.
- j. Indemnification – The Trust indemnifies its officers and Trustees for certain liabilities that may arise from the performance of their duties to the Trust. Additionally, in the normal course of business, each Fund enters into contracts that contain a variety of representations and warranties and which provide general indemnities. A Fund’s maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown, as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Fund that have not yet occurred. However, based on experience, the Funds expect the risk of loss due to these warranties and indemnities to be remote.

3. INVESTMENT ADVISORY FEES AND OTHER TRANSACTIONS WITH AFFILIATES

- a. Management Fees – Centerstone Investors, LLC (the “Advisor”) serves as each Fund’s investment advisor. Pursuant to an investment advisory agreement with the Trust, on behalf of the Funds, the Advisor, subject to the supervision of the Board and in conformity with the stated policies of the Funds, manages all business activities of the Funds. As compensation for its services, each Fund pays the Advisor an annualized rate of 0.90% of each Fund’s respective average daily net assets, accrued daily and paid monthly. For the period ended September 30, 2016, the Advisor earned advisory fees of $75,673 and $39,218 for the Centerstone Investors Fund and Centerstone International Fund, respectively.

The Advisor has contractually agreed to waive all or part of its advisory fees and/or make payments to limit Fund expenses (exclusive of any front-end or contingent deferred loads, taxes, leverage interest, brokerage commissions, expenses incurred in connection with any merger or reorganization, dividend expense on securities sold short, expenses of investing in underlying funds, or extraordinary expenses such as litigation) at least until March 31, 2018, so that the total annual operating expenses of the Funds do not exceed 1.35%, 2.10% and 1.10% of the average daily net assets of the Class A, Class C and Class I shares, respectively. Waivers and expense payments may be recouped by the Advisor from the Funds, to the extent that overall expenses fall below the expense limitation, within three years of when the amounts were waived or reimbursed. During the period ended September 30, 2016, the Advisor waived fees of $123,219 and $136,275 for the Centerstone Investors Fund and Centerstone International Fund, respectively.

- b. Distributor – The Distributor of the Funds is Northern Lights Distributors, LLC (the “Distributor”). The Funds have adopted a Distribution and Shareholder Servicing Plan (the “Plan”) pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act, for Class A and Class C shares. The Plan provides for the monthly payment of a combined shareholder servicing and distribution fee to the Distributor at an annualized rate of 0.25% and 1.00% of the average daily net assets attributable to the Class A and Class C shares, respectively. Class I shares do not pay rule 12b-1 distribution or shareholder servicing fees. For the period ended September 30, 2016, the Funds incurred distribution fees of $148 and $55 for the Centerstone Investors Fund and Centerstone International Fund, respectively.
- c. Administration, Fund Accounting and Transfer Agency Fees – Gemini Fund Services, LLC (“GFS” or the “Administrator”), an affiliate of the Distributor, serves as the administrator, fund accountant and transfer agent for the Funds.

Northern Lights Compliance Services, LLC (“NLCS”) – NLCS, an affiliate of GFS and the Distributor, provides a Chief Compliance Officer to the Trust, as well as related compliance services, pursuant to a consulting agreement between NLCS and the Trust. Under the terms of such agreement, NLCS receives customary fees from the Fund.

Blu Giant, LLC (“Blu Giant”), (formally “Gemcom”), an affiliate of GFS and the Distributor, provides EDGAR conversion and filing services as well as some print management services for the Funds on an ad-hoc basis. For the provision of these services, Blu Giant receives customary fees from the Funds.

Example

Shareholders of mutual funds will pay (1) transitional costs, such as sales load, and (2) ongoing expenses, such as advisory fees, distribution and service fees (12b-1), and other fund expenses. The following examples are intended to help you understand the ongoing cost (in dollars) of investing in a fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds. Please note, the expenses shown in the table are meant to highlight ongoing costs only and do not reflect any transactional costs, such as sales charges (loads), or contingent deferred sales charges on redemptions which may be assessed by mutual funds. This Example is based on an investment of $1,000 invested at the beginning of the period and held for the entire period as indicated below.

Actual Expenses

The columns under the heading entitled “Actual” help you estimate the actual expenses you paid over the period. The “Actual-Ending Account Value” shown is derived from the Fund’s actual return, and the “Actual-Expenses Paid During Period” shows the dollar amount that would have been paid by an investor who started with $1,000 in the Fund. To estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period, simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.6), then multiply the result by the number in the column under the heading entitled “Actual-Expenses Paid During Period.”

Hypothetical Examples for Comparison Purposes

The columns under the heading entitled “Hypothetical” provide information about hypothetical account value and hypothetical expenses based on the Fund’s actual expense ratio and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund’s actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the Fund and other funds. To do so, compare this 5% hypothetical example with the 5% hypothetical examples that appear in the shareholder reports of other funds.

FUNDS' EXPENSES (Unaudited)

SEPTEMBER 30, 2016

Please note that the expenses shown in the table are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect any transactional costs which may be applicable to your account. Therefore, the last column of the table (Hypothetical-Expenses Paid During Period) is useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if these transactional costs were included, your costs would have been higher.

* Expenses Paid During Period are equal to the Fund's annualized expense ratio, multiplied by the average account value over the period, multiplied by 148 days and divided by 365 (to reflect the number of days in the period May 3, 2016, to September 30, 2016).

** Expenses Paid During Period are equal to the Fund's annualized expense ratio, multiplied by the average account value over the period, multiplied by 183 days and divided by 365 (to reflect the number of days in the six month period ending September 30, 2016).

<sup>(1)</sup> Past performance does not guarantee future results. Assumes reinvestment of all dividends and capital gain distributions, if any, at net asset value and does not reflect the deduction of the applicable sales charge, exchange fees or redemption fees. Had the effect of sales charges been reflected, expenses would have been higher and returns lower. Total return is not annualized, as it may not be representative of the total return for the year.

Board Considerations for Approval of Investment Advisory Agreements

On March 11, 2016, the Board of Centerstone Investors Trust (the “Trust”) (including a majority of those trustees who are not “interested persons” of the Trust (as such term is defined in the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the “1940 Act”) (the “Independent Trustees”)) considered the approval of the investment advisory agreement (the “Agreement”) between Centerstone Investors, LLC (“Centerstone” or the “Advisor”) and the Trust, on behalf of each of its series, the Centerstone Investors Fund and the Centerstone International Fund (each a “Fund” and collectively, the “Funds”), respectively.

In connection with the Board’s consideration of the Agreement with respect to each of the Funds, the Board received written materials in advance of the meeting, which included information regarding: (i) the nature, extent, and quality of services to be provided to the Funds by Centerstone; (ii) a description of Centerstone’s investment management personnel; (iii) an overview of Centerstone’s operations and financial condition; (iv) a comparison of each Funds’ proposed advisory fee and estimated overall expenses with those of comparable mutual funds; (v) performance information for comparatively managed accounts, if any, (vi) the anticipated level of profitability from Centerstone’s fund-related operations; (vii) a description of Centerstone’s brokerage practices (including any soft dollar arrangements); and (viii) Centerstone’s compliance policies and procedures, including policies and procedures for personal securities transactions and with respect to cybersecurity and business continuity.

Throughout the process, the Board had the opportunity to ask questions of and request additional information from Centerstone. The Board was assisted by legal counsel for the Trust and the Independent Trustees were also separately assisted by independent legal counsel throughout the process. During the meeting at which the Board considered the Agreement, the Independent Trustees were advised by and met in executive sessions with their independent legal counsel at which no representatives of management were present. The Independent Trustees also received memoranda from their independent legal counsel and from counsel to the Trust discussing the legal standards for their consideration of the proposed Agreement. In approving the Agreement with respect to each of the Funds, the Board, including the Independent Trustees, considered a variety of factors, including those discussed below. The Board also considered other factors (including conditions and trends prevailing generally in the economy, the securities markets and the industry) and did not treat any single factor as determinative, and each Trustee may have attributed different weights to different factors.

Nature, Extent and Quality of Services. The Board reviewed information and materials provided by Centerstone related to the Agreement with the Trust, including the Agreement, Centerstone's Form ADV, a description of the firm and its organizational and management structure, its history and its regulatory history, the manner in which investment decisions would be made and executed, the financial condition of Centerstone and its ability to provide the services required under the Agreement, an overview of the personnel that would perform services for the Funds, and Centerstone's compliance policies and procedures reasonably designed to assure compliance with federal securities laws. The Board also considered Centerstone's risk management processes and its policies and procedures with respect to cybersecurity and business continuity. The Board also noted that, on a regular basis, it would receive information from the Trust's Chief Compliance Officer (CCO) regarding the Funds' compliance policies and procedures established pursuant to Rule 38a-1 under the 1940 Act. The Board considered that Centerstone would be responsible for the management of the day-to-day operations of the Funds, including but not limited to, monitoring and reviewing the activities of the Trust's third-party service providers. The Board noted that Centerstone had recently commenced operations and took into account the qualifications, prior experience and background of the senior and investment personnel of Centerstone. The Board considered Centerstone's level of staffing and its overall resources, as well as received information relating to Centerstone's compensation program.

The Board considered Centerstone's investment processes and philosophies. The Board took into account that Centerstone's responsibilities will include the development and maintenance of an investment program for each of the Funds that is consistent with each Fund's investment objectives, the selection of investment securities and the placement of orders for the purchase and sale of such securities, as well as the implementation of compliance controls related to performance of these services. The Board also received information with respect to Centerstone's brokerage policies and practices, including with respect to best execution and soft dollars.

SUPPLEMENTAL INFORMATION (Unaudited)

The Board concluded that Centerstone had sufficient quality and depth of personnel, resources, investment methods and compliance policies and procedures to perform its duties under the Agreement and that the Advisor may reasonably be expected to provide a high quality of services under the Agreement with respect to each Fund.

Performance. The Board noted that Centerstone had recently commenced operations and as a result, did not have comparable fund performance history. The Board took into account the qualifications and experience of the portfolio manager for the Funds, including his positive long-term performance returns with respect to registered investment companies that he had previously managed. The Board also took into account Centerstone's discussion of its investment processes and philosophies, as well as its staffing and resources. The Board also noted that it would review at its regularly scheduled meetings information about the performance of the Funds.

The Board concluded that Centerstone had the appropriate qualifications, experience and resources to perform its duties under the Agreement and is qualified to manage each Fund's assets in accordance with its respective investment objectives and policies.

Fees and Expenses. The Board reviewed comparative information prepared by an independent third-party provider of mutual fund data, including, among other data, each Fund's proposed contractual and net management fees and estimated total expenses as compared to similarly situated investment companies deemed to be comparable to the Funds. The Board considered each Fund's ranking within a smaller group of peer funds chosen by the independent third-party provider (the "Peer Group"), as well as each Fund's ranking within a broader group of funds. The Board noted that each Fund's advisory fee was higher than the median of each Fund's respective Peer Group, but within the range of fees of the Funds in each Fund's Peer Group. The Board also noted that each Fund's anticipated total net expenses were above its respective Peer Group median. The Board took into account Centerstone's discussion of the Funds' advisory fees as compared to those of their Morningstar categories and the funds in the Peer Groups, including differences in the investment strategies of the Funds as compared to the funds in each Fund's Peer Group.

SUPPLEMENTAL INFORMATION (Unaudited)

Centerstone also discussed the Funds' anticipated expenses. The Board noted that Centerstone has agreed to waive fees and/or reimburse expenses with respect to the Funds. The Board additionally noted that Centerstone did not manage any comparable accounts. The Board concluded that the advisory fee to be paid by each of the Funds was reasonable.

Profitability. The Board considered Centerstone's expected profitability based on current asset levels and whether such estimated profits are reasonable in light of the services provided to the Funds. The Board reviewed an estimated profitability analysis prepared by Centerstone, and noted that based on the estimated costs of managing the Funds, Centerstone's anticipated level of profitability, if any, from its relationship with the Funds was not excessive.

Economies of Scale. The Board considered whether Centerstone would realize economies of scale with respect to its management of the Funds. The Board considered a profitability analysis included in the board materials, and considered that while expenses of managing each of the Funds as a percentage of assets under management are expected to decrease as the Funds' assets grow, at current and expected asset levels, economies of scale are not a relevant consideration at this time. The Board also noted that if the Funds' assets increase over time, the Funds may realize other economies of scale.

Other Benefits. The Board also considered the character and amount of other direct and indirect benefits to be received by Centerstone from its relationship with the Funds. The Board concluded that potential "fall-out" benefits that Centerstone might receive, such as reputational benefits or increased ability to obtain research services, were reasonable, and might, in some cases, benefit the Funds.

Conclusion. Based on the Board's evaluation of all factors that it deemed to be material, including those factors described above, and assisted by the advice of independent legal counsel, the Board, including the Independent Trustees, concluded that approval of the Agreement with respect to each Fund would be in the best interest of each Fund and its respective shareholders. Accordingly, the Board, and the Independent Trustees voting separately, approved the Agreement with respect to each Fund.
