

CENTERSTONE INVESTORS was founded in 2016 by highly regarded Global Value investor, Abhay Deshpande. Launched to provide our clients with a nimble and flexible, value-oriented investment approach, Centerstone is a New York-based, privately owned SEC-registered investment advisor offering niche investment vehicles. We are heavily focused on the fundamental analysis of businesses and pride ourselves on our employee ownership culture, creating alignment with our investors.

DISTINCT INVESTMENT APPROACH

Successful investing requires a strong dose of common sense. As a result, we approach security analysis from a different perspective. We are business analysts, not “equity” analysts. Business analysis is a more holistic approach which includes the entirety of a firm’s capital structure and allows us, in our opinion, to more accurately gauge the prospects for impairment in business value.

As the name of the firm states, we are investors, which implies a long-term time horizon. Since most peers operate on an annual cycle, they attempt to maximize short-term gains. Being privately owned with an employee ownership culture allows us, in our opinion, to more effectively align our interests with our investors.

We define risk simply as the chance for permanent loss of capital. Our distinct investment approach seeks to minimize losses at a portfolio level by trying to have adequate diversification of risks. We will default to cash and high quality bonds in the absence of qualifying investments. It is our belief that our risk management techniques on a security-level and portfolio-level attempt to address the risk most commonly defined by shareholders: volatility.

“Successful investing requires a strong dose of common sense. As a result, we approach security analysis from a different perspective. We are business analysts, not ‘equity’ analysts.”

Active Share is a measure of the percentage of stock holdings in a portfolio that differ from the benchmark index. Active share can range from 0% (index fund) to 100% (no commonality with the benchmark index). Active share values over 100% are possible when there are short positions in the portfolio. Standard Deviation is a statistical measure of how returns over time have varied from the mean. A lower number signifies lower volatility. Weighted Market Capitalization is the market capitalization (market price multiplied by the number of shares outstanding) weighted to the data set's composition. Median Market Capitalization is the midpoint of market capitalization of the stocks in a portfolio. Price To Book is the ratio used to compare a stock's market value to its book value. It is calculated by dividing the prior day's closing price of the stock by the most recent available book value per share. Price To Earnings is the ratio for valuing a company that measures its current share price relative to its per-share earnings. It is calculated by dividing market value per share by earnings per share.

An investment in the Fund entails risk including possible loss of principal. There can be no assurance that the Fund will achieve its investment objective.

Risks and Disclosure:

Investments in foreign securities could subject the Funds to greater risks including, currency fluctuation, economic conditions, and different governmental and accounting standards. Foreign common stocks and currency strategies will subject the Funds to currency trading risks that include market risk, credit risk and country risk. There can be no assurance that the Funds' currency hedging strategy will reduce risk or that hedging transactions will be either available or cost effective. The Funds' use of derivative instruments involves risks different from, or possibly greater than, the risks associated with investing directly in securities and other traditional investments.

Investments in private funds are subject to the risks of such funds' underlying investments, which will vary depending on the industries and business lines in which such private funds invest. These risks include additional illiquidity risk, foreign investing risk, currency risk, interest rate risk, default risk, valuation risk and derivatives risk. Generally, little public information exists for private investments, and there is a risk a Fund may not have sufficient information to make a fully informed investment decision.

Gold and other precious metals prices can be influenced by a variety of economic, financial and political factors, especially inflation: when inflation is low or expected to fall, prices tend to be weak. Any market price movements, regulatory or technological changes, or economic conditions affecting gold-related investments may have an impact on a Fund's performance. Additionally, there are certain considerations related to gold and other direct precious metal investments, including custody and transaction costs that may be higher than those involving securities.

Domestic economic growth and market conditions, interest rate levels, and political events are among the factors affecting the securities markets in which the Funds invest. Value investing involves buying stocks that are out of favor and/or undervalued in comparison to their peers or their prospects for growth. There is a risk that issuers and counterparties will not make payments on securities and other investments held by the Funds, resulting in losses to the Funds.

The value of the Funds portfolio holdings may fluctuate in response to events specific to the companies or markets in which the Funds invests, as well as economic, political, or social events in the United States or abroad. The impact of the coronavirus (COVID-19), and other epidemics and pandemics that may arise in the future, could affect the economies of many nations, individual companies and the market in general in ways that cannot necessarily be foreseen at the present time.

Our value strategy may not meet its investment objective and you could lose money by investing in the Centerstone Funds. Value investing involves the risk that such securities may not reach their expected market value, causing the Funds to underperform other equity funds that use different investing styles.

In general, a rise in interest rates causes a decline in the value of fixed income securities owned by the Funds. The Funds may invest, directly or indirectly, in "junk bonds." Such securities are speculative investments that carry greater risks than higher quality debt securities.

Large-cap company risk is the risk that established companies may be unable to respond quickly to new competitive challenges such as changes in consumer tastes or innovative smaller competitors. Investments in lesser-known, small and medium capitalization companies may be more vulnerable than larger, more established organizations. Securities in small and mid-cap companies may be more volatile and less liquid than the securities of companies with larger market capitalizations.

Investors should carefully consider the investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses of the Centerstone Funds. This and other important information about the Funds are contained in the prospectus, which can be obtained by calling 1.877.314.9006. The prospectus should be read carefully before investing.
